Special Notices.

The Horrors of Dyspepsia.

And the direful train of disorders to which it leads, are averted by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS as a preventive, or cured with astonishing celerity by its direct and genial operation upon the stomach, the liver, and the nervous system.

The Shaking Nariya.

Of Fever and Ague, instead of being dosed for months with quinine, to the ruin of the general health, are promptly set upon their feet again, without danger of a relapse, by this prompt remedy for every kind of Intermittent. Taken as a safeguard against miasma, it renders an attack of Chills and Fever absolutely impossible.

If you are Bilious.

There is nothing that touches the Liver, the malady, so quickly, and restores it so certainly to a perfectly healthy and regular condition, as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. If of a "bilious habit," the tendency of your system to that form of disease may be held in check for a lifetime by the occasional use of this harmless vegetable antidote.

After an Attack of Sickness.

When the animal powers are exhausted, the pulse weak, the mind depressed, and all the powers of vitality at a low ebb, there is no restorative comparable with the BITTERS. They renovate every organ, gently stimulate the circulation, improve the quality of the blood, clear the clouded brain, and impart to the trembling nerves stability and firmness. Sold by all Druggists.

DR. FOWLER'S TOOTHACHE ANODYNE is being appreciated, as the community are learning, value, not only in curing the toothache, but in beautifying the gums, curing the gum-boils or any humor of the mouth, sweetening the breath, and is a great assistant to children cutting teeth. Our readers will do well to have this valuable article on hand.

A SOVEREIGN REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.—Those who have suffered from Night Sweats, a constant Cough, Spitting of Blood, and complete prostration, can appreciate the value of a medicine that will permanently cure these alarming symptoms. To all who would find a remedy, we say, try Dr. HALL'S BALM, which has received the highest testimonials ever given in favor of any expectorant medicine.

What is the value of money, compared with health? Men will tell early and late, undergo many trials, deprive themselves of the comforts of life to make money, and when they have accumulated it, what is it worth to them without health?

Now, SCOTT'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP is more valuable than gold, as it will restore the system when it is afflicted with Scrofula, Catarrhes, Diseases, Liver Complaints, or any other disease of the blood; it will aid more to one's happiness than all the wealth of the world.

Allen's Lung-Balm is considered by all those who have tried it to be the very best remedy for the cure of Consumption. It also gives immediate relief to the most distressing cough.

For sale by L. B. Stevens; Also, by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally.

Spring is the time to take a Cathartic Medicine, as nearly every one needs it. After passing through the severities of the Winter, the system becomes languid, the liver torpid, and a general stupor pervades the whole system. Dr. MOTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS have been proven to be one of the best Cathartic Medicines offered to the public. Their great merit consists in the value of the materials of which they are composed—being vegetable extracts—which dissolve in the stomach so readily that they seldom cause pain. Those who have used them say they are the most valuable Pills they ever used.

We call the attention of the public to the advertisement of Dr. C. W. Botach's Balm, which is a most valuable remedy for all the ailments of the human system.

On the 23rd of July last I submitted, through an agent of mine, to the Medical Director of the Department of the Cumberland a sample of my Cedron Bitters for his inspection, and requested it, after analysis, be found it meritorious to sanction and approve its use among our soldiers.

The following is the Medical Director's reply, and the General Rosecrans' permission to ship 500 doses at once, to have it sold to Soldiers.

"I am satisfied that Cedron Bitters will do no harm to any one, if taken in moderation. I see no objection to Dr. Hall's being permitted to dispose of it to Soldiers."

"A. HENRY THURSTON, Surgeon-General, U. S. Army."

"HEADQUARTERS DEPT. OF THE CUMBERLAND, Nashville, Tennessee, July 24, 1862."

"Dr. John Bull's agent, Mr. W. H. Miles, has permission to ship to Nashville, Tennessee, twenty-five gross (or 3000 doses) of Bull's Cedron Bitters, for sale to Soldiers in the army only."

"The regulations of the Treasury Department are to be complied with strictly."

"By command of Major General Rosecrans, W. H. MILES, Major and Provost Marshal General."

SPECIAL PERMIT.

UNITED STATES CUSTOM HOUSE, Nashville, Tennessee, August 13, 1862.

Dr. John Bull's agent, Mr. W. H. Miles, has permission to transport to the front by rail or river, within the Federal lines, for the use of the army, (140 one hundred and forty boxes of Bull's Cedron Bitters,

Per WILLIAM HALL, Surveyor of Customs.

A VOICE FROM VICKSBURG, "Vicksburg, Mississippi, August 9, 1862.

"Dear Sir:—I am happy to state to you that I have used your valuable Cedron Bitters, with great benefit to myself, and general health, and grateful to you for the prompt relief and recovery from the unhealthy and miserable condition of the Mississippi River and around Vicksburg, having been with General Grant's army through-out its whole southern campaign. I confidently recommend it to all persons who are exposed in unhealthy climates."

"W. H. FOGLE, Agent U. S. Sanitary Commission."

Latest and Most Important Discovery

OF THE

NINETEENTH CENTURY

NO man's name is more intimately connected with the history of MATERIA MEDICA of the United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in Medical Discovery, than that of

JOHN BULL, OF LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

His inimitable preparation of SARSAPARILLA has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable drug.

His Compound of Wild Cherry has become a household word throughout the West and South. His Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide spread as the continent of NORTH AMERICA.

But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his discovery, or rather continuation, of the true remedy for the Biliousness of the human system, which is the basis of the Bitters now offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America to whom it is due. Armed with this Indian medicine the most deadly malaria, and headache, without fear, the most venomous serpent, it is a belief with them, that while there is breath in the body, the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be. While Dr. Bull is not prepared to endorse this extravagant pretension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that it is a remedy and preventative for all diseases arising from exposure, either to change of weather or climate, or to miasmatic influences, it stands

WITHOUT A RIVAL

And justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies.

IN DYSPESIA

And its attendant train of symptoms, it is not more like a CHARM than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of Materia Medica that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be found in the eleventh edition of the United States Dispensatory, pages 1387 and 1388.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of CEDRON with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper distilled Bourbon Whisky, which he considers the most valuable in the world.

He might furnish a volume of evidence, but he would rather let his true value speak for itself, in every case, to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine.

FORENOON REPORT.

Grant—Johnston.

New York, April 29.—The Newborn advice; state; that Johnston attempted to haggle with Grant for terms which would provide for the pardon of Jefferson Davis and the other leading conspirators, but the Lieutenant General would listen to nothing of the kind, and Johnston was compelled to be satisfied with the conditions granted to Lee.

The Herald's Washington special says, information has reached Washington that the rebel steamer ram Olinda alias Stonehewer, arrived at Tenerife, in the Canary Islands, on the 31st of March in three days from Lisbon, she was allowed to coal, and she was ordered to leave the Port in twenty-four hours. She left on the 1st inst., steaming rapidly southward, but her destination was unknown.

The Navy Department, in anticipation of the appearance of the Stonehewer in some of our harbors, is making proper distribution of suitable vessels along the Atlantic sea border.

Intelligence of the arrival of Jeff. Davis and his accompanying fugitive as far South as South Carolina, has been received in Washington.

It is thought that he will be intercepted before reaching the Mississippi River. The Herald's Selma, Alabama, dispatch says, among prisoners captured here are 150 officers.

Lieutenant General Dick Taylor made his appearance on a steambot.

N. H. Forrest, Dan Adams, Roddy, Armstrong and Crossland, under cover of the darkness, reached a swamp east of the city, and eluded capture. Officers comprising their staffs were taken.

Forrest's ordnance officer, Captain Bond, reports Forrest as wounded in two places in the arm.

Croton and McCook attacked Jackson in the front and rear at Tyrone, but having traveled by different roads from those intended, their attacks were not simultaneous, else he must have been destroyed.

The destruction of the Centerville bridge over the Cahawba, and Croton's movement toward Tuscaloosa, rendered it utterly impossible for Forrest to carry out his plans.

Cahawba capitulated yesterday, and about seventy of our prisoners confined there for a long time were released. They had been well treated.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says: The post mortem examination of Booth's body showed the bullet did not touch the brain, but striking the spinal column, produced immediate paralysis.

It is the opinion of the surgeons that he must have died a horrible death, the brain being active, and consciousness complete up to the very moment of dissolution.

Nearly all the parties directly implicated are now in custody. Paine, the Seward assassin, is a brother of the St. Albans raider.

There are three of these brothers, all reckless and daring. Two were with Walker in Nicaragua.

Edwin Booth arrived here to-day to ask for his brother's body. This request will not be granted.

The Herald's Richmond correspondent reports an interview he has had with General Lee.

He called on him to obtain his political views, and lay them before the public. On informing General Lee of his object the latter said: "I am a paroled prisoner," and added: "I have never been a politician, and know but little of political leaders; I am a soldier."

He further said he was ready to make any sacrifice or perform any honorable act that would tend to the restoration of peace and tranquility to the country.

He said that as a believer in State rights, he had considered his allegiance due principally to his native State. He had opposed secession, but when his State went out and offered it, he thought it his duty to go with it when he accepted command under the rebel Government, he considered he was serving his State. He regarded his surrender of military not political significance, that it was not a surrender of the doctrine of State rights.

When the South was wholly subdued, only would the doctrine of State rights be surrendered. The surrender of a single army was only a military necessity.

When the South surrenders all its forces and returns to the Union, then only will she surrender her favorite doctrine of secession. That principle will then be seized by military power. On this question of State sovereignty, he contends, there exists a legitimate cause, but the question was left unsettled in the convention forming the organization, and the war is invited to settle it, therefore, the war raised on this issue can not be called treason.

The South is forced to submit it, of course, as only be looked upon as the triumph of Federal power over State Rights, and the forced annihilation of the latter.

South have not been, and are not yet prepared to beg for terms, but are ready to accept fair and honorable terms, their own political views being considered as a part of the peace to be made, and the best men have been anxious to do away with it.

He explicitly expressed the opinion that should arbitrary or vindictive or revengeful policies be inaugurated, the end was not yet. He regarded the assassination of Lincoln as crime beyond execution. It could not be atoned for by any good man and any conceivable mode.

As to the terms of peace, to the suggestion that the political leaders only be held to a strict accountability, he asked: Would that be just? What has Mr. Davis done more than any other southerner, that he should not be punished. It is time he has occupied a prominent position as the agent of the whole people, but that has made him more less a rebel than the rest. His acts were to acts of the whole people, and the Southern people work his acts. He is not responsible for the commission of the crime, on the contrary he was one of the best given to his adherence to the Southern movement, having pronounced its ruin at its close, and, pronounced its ruin at its close, and, pronounced its ruin at its close.

FORENOON REPORT.

Grant's Special.

April 29.—The Herald's Washington

of President Lincoln, and the would be murderer of Secretary Seward, has developed a well laid mature plan of assassination, and infamous rascality, murder and arson, unparalleled in the annals of crime, the investigations have not yet reached the point where it is proper to disclose the extent and various ramifications of this murderous plot.

Many unsuspected and unsuspecting parties are involved, and the evidence is complete to show that it was neither the freak of a mad man, nor an act of individual hate, but a scheme concocted by the leaders of the rebellion, and relied upon by them in the hour of their most desperate need as one of the means of success in their great treasonable enterprise.

The Times special says: The paroled officers and soldiers are robbing the inhabitants in the vicinity of Fredericksburg. The officers, members of former wealthy families who never did a day's work, declare they will not earn their living.

The Tribune's Washington special says: Edwin Booth is here for the purpose, it is stated, of procuring the body of his brother. This desire cannot be granted, as the grave of the assassin will never be known.

The surgeons who held the autopsy upon Booth, assert that he must have endured untold anguish of body, as well as of the mind. Mortification of the leg had commenced, and it was the opinion of the Surgeon General that he could not have lived many days more in any event.
